

100th Anniversary of the IBC

On 10th July 2018, the IBC celebrated its 100th anniversary. It was a day of reflection on the past and a look to the future.

100th Anniversary of the IBC

The IBC has a long and proud history, and it is an honour to be part of this special occasion. We have a great team of people who have made the IBC what it is today, and we are looking forward to continuing our work for many years to come.

The IBC has a long and proud history, and it is an honour to be part of this special occasion. We have a great team of people who have made the IBC what it is today, and we are looking forward to continuing our work for many years to come.

The IBC has a long and proud history, and it is an honour to be part of this special occasion. We have a great team of people who have made the IBC what it is today, and we are looking forward to continuing our work for many years to come.

The IBC has a long and proud history, and it is an honour to be part of this special occasion. We have a great team of people who have made the IBC what it is today, and we are looking forward to continuing our work for many years to come.

The IBC has a long and proud history, and it is an honour to be part of this special occasion. We have a great team of people who have made the IBC what it is today, and we are looking forward to continuing our work for many years to come.

The IBC has a long and proud history, and it is an honour to be part of this special occasion. We have a great team of people who have made the IBC what it is today, and we are looking forward to continuing our work for many years to come.

with new and former jury members at the University of Warwick.

Chair, IBC

Dr Andrew Hearn MBE FRS FRSB

Chair, IBC